mand it remains for the pulp company to find out whether they can secure enough patrons for the first development of 500 horse power. After this much has been sold it is confidently expected that its demonstrated cheapness will sell the balance. From the best information obtainable, electric power costs half as much as power generated by steam, and there should be no difficulty in placing all the power the pulp mills have to offer. The management will commence at once the convass the vicinity mentioned, and, if enough encouragement is received, they will offer the power in Charles Town within ninety days, and deliver it to those who may contract for it before that time.

Notice to Taxpayers Charles Town District.

Charles Town, W. Va., Dec. 11th, 1897.

I am very much in need of money to meet the obligations of State and county. I have no resource for raising money other than that of collecting the taxes which are now overdue, I therefore ask that you put forth an extraordinary effort and help relieve me from the situation.

Nothing would give me more pain than to have to collect the taxes by law, which I will have to do if not paid promptly.

Messrs Crisman & Harrison, at Summit Point, will keep constantly on hand Flour, Meal and Feed for exchange. A share of the public patronage solicited.

Taxes for 1897 are now due and you are earnest! requested to make prompt have the money with which to meet obligations to the State and county which are importative and cannot be delayed. A large sum will be due the Auditor, in a legislature passed some very stringent laws upon the Sheriff, and I trust you will come forward and pay your taxes and thus save me the very unpleasant between the control of the state of the public patronage solicited.
